The Target Market Determination

Stacks Finance has a series of obligations under the law when promoting its funds to investors. One of those obligations requires us to take reasonable steps to ensure that the Fund, including its key attributes, is likely to be consistent with the likely objectives, financial situation and needs of consumers in its target market.

You should consider the Fund's Target Market Determination (TMD) before deciding to invest. The TMD sets out the target market for the Fund, the various triggers to review the target market and certain other information.

If you would like to discuss any aspect of our Target Market Determination, please call our Member Services team on 1800 20 1800.
